Cumberland Duke

Cumberland Virginia 23040

1978

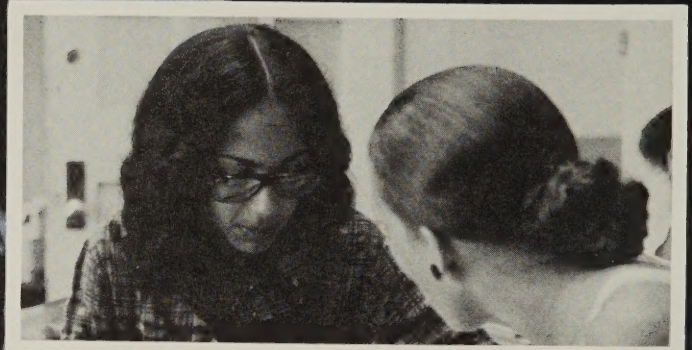

Sometimes I'm like everyone else—

Among 850 students, it's hard for me to keep my identity. I feel as if I'm just another face in the crowd. I must dress like everyone else, or I will stick out like a sore thumb. I must think like everyone else, or my peers will think I'm weird. I must either conform to all their beliefs or be left out on a limb. I simply can't be myself, can I?

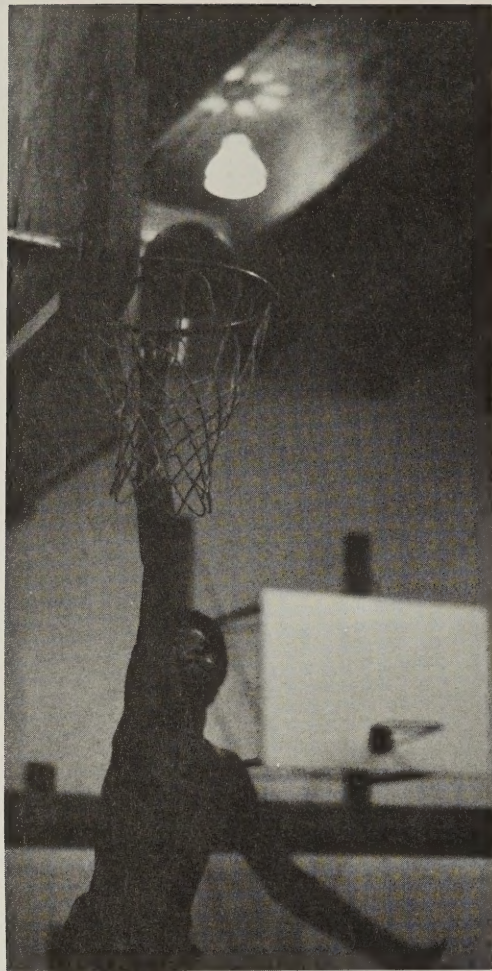

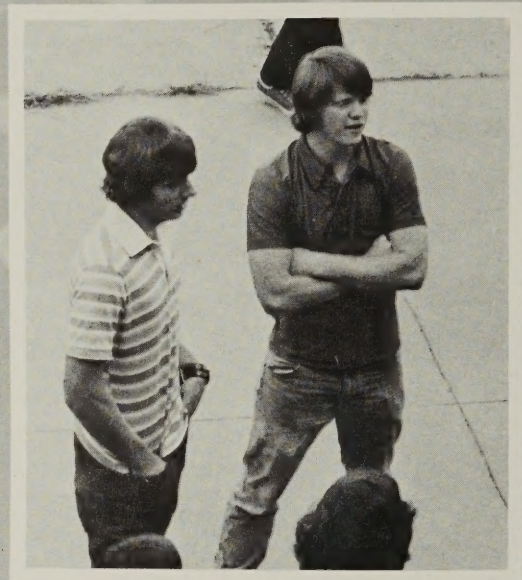

Sometimes I'm like no one else—

I'm not just another face in the crowd,
I'm me! I'm a distinct individual. Even though I dress like everyone else, I'm still different on the inside. My personality is different. My feelings are different. I'm different.

Who Am I?

Okay, so I'm different, but in what ways? What qualities set me apart from the rest of the crowd? Leadership? Athletic ability? Scholarship? School spirit? I have to find myself, my own special qualities. I'm in search of myself, have you seen me anywhere?

I knever knew who I was until I went out for sports. That's me out there on the basketball court! People know who I am. I know who I am! I play football and basketball. I run track, play soccer, play softball. I'm a cheerleader I'm finding myself through sports.

The most important ingredients for a team of any kind, especially football, are unity, spirit, love, and faith in your teammates. The spirit of the team was stroked by their coach, Buddy Martin, who taught them to think as a family. The players learned from their mistakes and gave it a great try at winning. They tried so hard and came so close and then . . . something happened! Was it their confidence, their strength, or the crowd's support?

J.V. Football

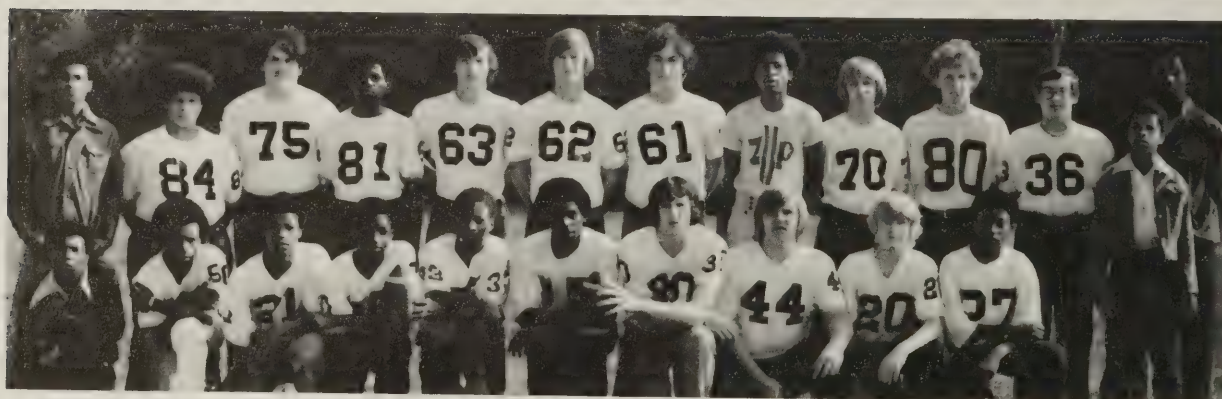

The J.V. Football Team got off to a good start this year thanks to the help and support of Gary Cosby. If you ask Coach Cosby about the team, he'll tell you that the guys didn't really like practicing everyday, but all in all they played to their best abilities.

Jarvis Jackson—10, runs for a first down.

Pride

We want A-C-T-I-O-N, those were the cries of the Cumberland High Cheering Squad as they pushed the "Big Dukes" toward victory. The Cheering squad really displays spirit throughout the "Dukes" football season of '77. The cheerleaders always did their best to boost the morale of the team and its fans. They knew the Dukes had power overall to get them to the top. Unfortunately the Dukes never made it but the squad kept telling the fans that we had something nobody else has got. That's P-R-I-D-E!!

Everybody Stand Up

There was only one cheering squad this year supporting and boosting the Dukes to victory. Strained voices, red hands, and tired bodies couldn't stop the squad. The cheerleaders released themselves during every game to bring their opponents to a halt. The cheering squad stood up for the Dukes every step of the way. In times of distress and defeat the squad was there to defend and support their team. Whenever there were any doubts in the fans minds, the Cumberland High Cheering Squad would distract their worries by telling everyone to "Stand Up" and cheer for the Dukes.

J.V. Basketball

The J.V. Basketball Team turned out to be pretty good this year. With lots of determination they made their way through most of the games. Coach Gary Cosby gave the team the much needed encouragement to help them get as far as they did. So far, So good, congratulations "Little Dukes".

From the beginning the Dukes expected much success. Weekly newspaper reports made it evident that the Dukes were the "team to beat". Led by three returning starters, forwards Dwayne Dennis and Mark Stevens (captain) and guard Cleveland Johnson, and guard Ivan Robinson, opponent after opponent found out what the word "defeat" meant at the hands of the Dukes. The Dukes were victorious, for the second consecutive year at the Annual Prince Edward High School Christmas Tournament, with two players, Dwayne Dennis, and Cleveland Johnson named to the "All Tournament Team". In the area statistics, Dwayne led in scoring with approximately 23 points per game, Mark averaged 13 points, and Cleveland 12. Dwayne was the Dukes leading rebounder with an average of 10 rebounds per game and Mark followed with 9. Ivan and Cleveland led the Dukes in assists averaging 5 per game. Fans and opponent knew the Dukes were a team as they amazed all with their new, rhythmic, before-game warm-up in which they all moved but presented to the cheering crowd a game-winning team whose efforts were like those of a perfect machine. Coach Johnson has a new plus this year in that he had an Assistant Coach—Will Robinson, who had played on a trophy-winning team for him several years earlier. At daily practices the two coaches worked with the team and were able to present to Competitors a zone defense that proved to be a success. On offense the Dukes used the "pick", "scramble", "four-corners", and "fast-break" to send team after team back into the locker room with another loss in its record.

The Dukette's basketball season was very disappointing for 1977. The team has gradually been going down. In their scores, even though the Dukettes consist of some of the best players ever produced from Cumberland High. Their teamwork has improved alot in the past year. With their desire to be number one the Dukettes seem to improve their playing skills each year. They keep gaining valuable experience which they will use in the future to rank as one of the best girl's basketball teams in Virginia. We hope that everyone's confidence in the Dukettes will continue, for they show some of the best sportsmanship in this district.

The Varsity Baseball team wasn't as fortunate this year. The Dukes had to accept many challenges throughout the season, but they used strategy as well as basic skills to overcome the challenge. They practiced long hours to improve their batting averages and playing ability. They got scratched, bruised, and blistered, but the Dukes hung with it. They didn't make it to the top, but learned that sportsmanship and cooperation is part of the game too. They did their best and that's what "winning" is all about.

The J.V. Baseball team finished the season with a record of 5-12-0. Determination, hard work, and cooperation led the Junior Sluggers on this year. The team practiced after school every day trying to improve themselves as Dukes, for the J.V. team is the beginning of the Varsity team for next year.

J.V. Spring Soccer Team Places First

The ball is off.

The J.V. Spring Soccer team placed first in the district this year. Through practice and hard work, the team improved and became a winner. It was struggle as it is with everything else, but when you are determined and you try hard, you usually make it.

"It takes practice" is what the coaches say and they must be right because that's what we did a lot of this year. After school, we ran laps around the track, ran relay races, did the long jump, high jump and the pole vault. We threw the discus and shot-put and ran long-distance runs. It was hard work but we enjoyed it. There's also a big gold trophy in the gym recognizing the Dukettes for their state Championship. After all, you don't really know your abilities until you get out in the field, practice and find out.

Only the Beginning

The new sport this year is soccer. It seems as if everyone wants to get in on the action. Though we didn't win any games, we did exceptionally well for a first year team, scoring 2 goals against the strong team from Varina. This year was only the beginning.

You don't have to speak French or Latin to join our clubs—Bonjour, tout le monde—salvête, omnēs. Who am I? I'm another Leonardo Da Vinci. I'm the lead in the school play. I never knew what authority meant until I joined the S.C.A. Being president takes a lot of responsibility and time; But out in the business world you'll need it! I'm finding myself through Clubs.

It is an honor to be elected by classmates to serve on the student council because the S.C.A. is the only organization in school in which every student is a member. When you accept the job of being a representative, you know you are accepting a big responsibility. Before accepting the job you must ask yourself one big important question, "Is this kind of commitment right for me?", because to serve as an effective council member I must be able to listen to other's suggestions, criticisms, and problems with an open mind, and when the time comes I must be able to personally contribute to the good of the S.C.A., and in effect the entire student body. Having decided serving on the council is for me, I have confidence in saying, "I am where the action is!"

In the continued search of—"Who am I?", being selected to the National Honor Society gives junior and senior C.H.S. students positive answers in finding their identities. Only students who have outstanding records of scholarship, leadership, character and service are chosen to be in the society. Belonging to the N.H.S. says that I am somebody.

The motto—"Happiness is Giving and Giving is the Kee Club", gives a picturesque insight into what the club does. The Kee Club is one of the biggest service clubs at C.H.S. Each year it sponsors many activities. This year the club crowned a "Miss Kee Club". The money raised from this project was donated to the Christmas Seal Fund. C.H.S. is well represented in Virginia Lung Association activities thanks to the work of Kee Club members. One of its aims is to improve relations between people, so to bring people together the club sponsored a smorgasbord and a dance. Kee Club activities center around providing service to the community, school, and its members in hopes of getting the message across that everybody is somebody important.

Every Monday and Wednesday during football and basketball seasons interested members of the Kee Club met to devise unique dance routines to the music that was most popular. These Kee Club members composed the Drill Team. Members learned to combine ballet, marching techniques, and of course "disco dancing" to make up their routines. Weekly performances gave members a chance to overcome fear of performing before a crowd. A year together taught many how to work with others to make the team a success. The Drill Team gives students an opportunity to find out what they like, what they are good at, and most importantly who they are.

A Brighter Future

The Future Farmers of America celebrate their 50th anniversary this year. From its beginning in 1928 until the present, the FFA has steadily progressed through experience, leadership, cooperation, advanced technology, and a lot of hard work from its members. From the classroom to the shop, to meetings, to federation and area contest, to annual FFA banquet, to state and national conventions, to field trips and many other places on the FFA route, members enjoy going and most are out to work hard and make the most of it all. So, in general, we are proud to say, "The FFA at 50: A Golden Past ... A Brighter Future."

Continuing Their Search

This year, Health Careers Club was better than ever. With the help of President Stewart Grant and all of the other officers, they continue with their exciting adventures which will help most members in the future. Health Careers is one club which will teach you much concerning your future life and job.

Expressing Themselves Through Art

The Art Club at C.H.S. has advanced and grown throughout the years. They have enjoyed their trip this year to the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts. They learned to be creative with what resources they have and also how to express themselves through art.

Broadening Your Horizons

The Latin Club was established this year at C.H.S. The members, while having fun, try to learn to communicate with others in a foreign language. They have many constructive activities and encourage learning in all areas.

Soccer Boosters

The Soccer Club supported the Soccer team financially and spiritually. They helped to raise money for the soccer team equipment and uniforms. The members also had to learn the basic skills of soccer. Practicing along with the team to improve its strategy was the most supporting factor. The members of the club are concerned about the soccer team's future. They work and plan together to improve the overall conditions of the team. The members try to boost the morale of the team in times of agony and defeat. And are always there to grant congratulations in time of victory. They encourage spirit where ever the soccer team goes. They are willing to use their spare time to get the students and the fans interested in soccer. So soccer team watch out because the soccer club boosters are behind you.

Coordination

Keep your balance ... Toes are always up ... Arms steady ... Back arched. These are only a few techniques remembered by the members of the gymnastic club while performing. Cartwheels, hand stands, tumbling and splits are a small part of the gymnastic routines. The members of the gymnastic club develop and train their muscles to improve their coordination. The exercises strengthen and tone the body to make better athletes out of the members. It's a known fact that everyone isn't coordinated. So for those who are willing to improve their bodies through gymnastics ... Heads up!!

Smile Everyone

Kim Newman was very active in the Photography Club this year.

Mr. Meinhard tests new photography equipment.

Marching Band and Majorettes

The CHS Band has been very progressive this year. Besides placing first in the Farmville Jaycee's Christmas Parade they also placed No. 2 at the Festival in Harrisonburg, Va. at Madison College. Miss Shelby Shelton has done a very good job with the band this year. The Stage Band who is sometimes called the "Pep or Jazz Band" is a spark to any concert. When the Stage Band performs, suddenly "Silent Night" isn't silent anymore. Who are we? We're number one!

“Singing to the World . . .” is what the C.H.S. Chorus does. You can express yourself in soprano, alto, bass, or whatever your pitch is. Besides practice sessions and singing for sheer amusement, the chorus put on a spectacular concert which was open to the public.

People have said that one can find himself through music . . . well here at C.H.S. this is truly possible.

“Ain’t No Half-Steppin’”

“Ain’t No Half-Steppin’” is what the C.H.S. Flag Core says. With practice and determination, they made spectacular performances in parades, leading the band. With the help of Miss Shelby Shelton they were able to make it all work this year.

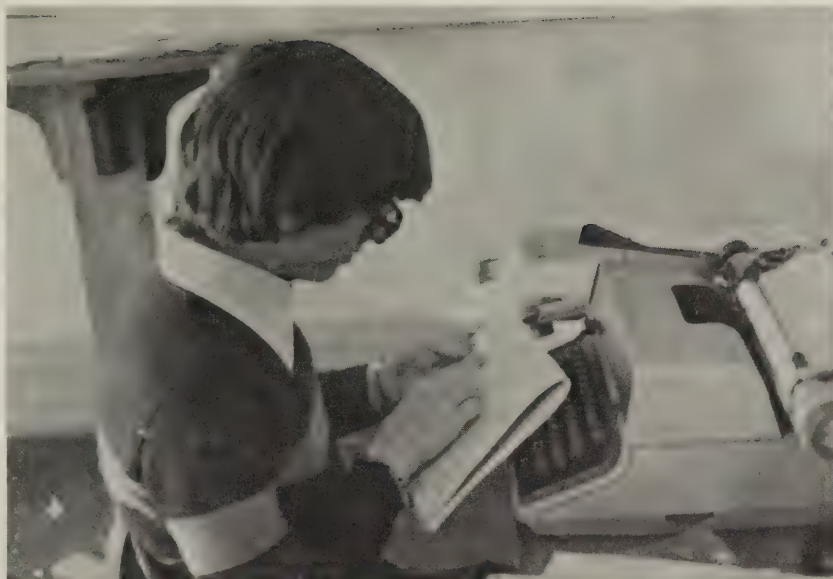

The Producers

We're the producers. We spend most of the year working on the Duke. Putting together a yearbook is not as easy as some people think. It's a tough job getting pictures, copy, a page design, and imagination down on paper. It's an even tougher job raising over $4,000 to cover production cost. We're a group of people trying to work as one. We take many ideas and try to tie them together. We're many, we're one.

Newspaper Staff

The Newspaper Staff deserves a lot of attention. They have worked very hard. They took interviews and did polls, and other very interesting activities that brought the school together and made each one of us feel that our opinions counted.

UPPER RIGHT: The busy crowd you see, is working very hard at putting out the School paper, also known as The C.H.S. Express. BOTTOM: The Newspaper Staff stays busy all of the time. Here you get a view of the hectic class, the end is ... Beautiful! The C.H.S. Express.

I never knew school could be so exciting until I attended a C.H.S. Pep Rally: Chanting, stomping; it makes it all seem worthwhile. C.H.S. really gets it all together Who Am I? Hey, I'm the Fonz! Hey, and we're Laverne and Shirley! We make the 50's day all worthwhile . . .

Hollywood, Broadway, C.H.S. goes all the way for its plays—Remember Judgement Morning, Disco, Pop! Do you recall your first dance? I'm finding myself through activities.

Homecoming '77

The 1977 Duke Homecoming football game was a disappointment. Half time, queen candidates were escorted on the field. They were Jeanette Pleasants, Lillian Sims, and Pearl Mosby. Darryl Oliver, the captain of the football team, crowned Jeanette Pleasants queen. The Dukes were defeated by Goochland. The Homecoming Dance was held in the Cumberland High School Gymnasium and the Music was provided by the Improved Sound.

Pearl Mosby, escorted by her father, awaits the decision of Homecoming Queen.

Lillian Sims, her escort, and Tommy Johnson, the crown bearer await the decision of Homecoming Queen.

Jeanette and her younger sister Jennifer Pleasants, were both members of the Homecoming Court. Their father smiles proudly.

Mrs. Meinhard tries to keep Mark away from his older brother, Kevin Ingle, while performing with the band on field at halftime.

The alumni smiled as they walked down field.

The juniors planned and raised money for an entire year and their efforts paid off on the night of Saturday, May 6, 1978 at the Junior-Senior Prom. The theme of this year's prom—We may never pass this way again—was carried out in an imaginative way. Music was provided by the May's and Company band. The atmosphere of the prom set the mood for an enjoyable and romantic evening that those who attended will never forget.

Plays of '78

The plays at CHS were really great in '78. All of them, The Brick and the Rose, Judgement Morning, and Hello Dolly were really fantastic. Ms. Prillaman, Mr. Cocke, and Mr. Harrison really did a good job with all of them this year.

Rick Litton plays the part of Gaff in The Brick and the Rose.

Hello Dolly was a great success at Cumberland this year as well as the other plays—The Brick and the Rose, and Judgement Morning. There were many members in the cast and the crew, which called for a lot of hard work with little time to do it in. Hard work and long hours were a part of all plays, but when you're really performing in front of a crowd it is worth it.

UPPER LEFT: Stewart Grant and Annette Hamilton play the roles of Tommy and Alice in The Brick and the Rose. IMMEDIATE LEFT: Part of the cast from Hello Dolly practice in costume. Honors

Many students at Cumberland High received special recognition this year. These young people have sought out and found some positive answers in the search for themselves. The honors they received weren't given to them for any unworthy reason. These students have been working hard all year and have achieved a level of excellence that is to be admired by all.

Jeffrey Scales, Cathy Franklin, Jeff Martin, Pam Stanley and Danny Oliver were selected to play in the District 5 Regional Band Concert in Lexington, Va.

Jimmy Nygaard placed in VCU's GRCTM math contest.

The Creative Writing Literary Magazine staff formed a human pyramid. The staff include (from top to bottom) Susan Goodman, Sharon Langhorne, Joyce Riddle, Doris Trent, Brenda Wiley, Freddie Hawkins, Mrs. Robin Smith, instructor; Bobby Flippen and Stuart Grant.

This year's basketball team has brought great honors to our county and school. The 1977-78 Dukes are the Group A, Boy's Basketball State Champions. In their long climb to the top the team accomplished much. After their lost to Buckingham by a score of 43 to 44, Cumberland ended the season with wins over Lunenburg—62 to 49, over Powhatan—64 to 48, Fluvanna—70 to 54 and Amelia—71 to 35. The Dukes suffered the fourth and final lost of their career when Clover Hill defeated them 36 to 39. The regular season ended with a win over Prince Edward 62 to 51, and a district record of 13-3 and an all game record of 16-4 going into district tournament play. The Dukes ended the season as James River District Champs.

The District championship won the team an automatic trip to regional competition. Cumberland defeated Prince Edward, 62 to 60 in quarter-final district tournament competition and faced, and defeated Clover Hill—40 to 38, in semi-final play. They defeated Lunenburg—47 to 43 to become the James River District Tournament Champions. The next step was to become regional champions. The Dukes won the semi-finals in regional competition with a win over Elkton High School and became Region B Boys' Basketball Champions when they defeated defending state champions Madison High School with a score of 51 to 43. The regional championship advanced Cumberland to state championship tournament play. The team entered the finals when they defeated John I. Burton High School—73 to 51. The Dukes became Group A, Boys' Basketball State Champions on the afternoon of Saturday, March 11, 1978 when they defeated James River High School with a score of 47 to 60. Words can't express the full impact this championship has had on us, but the words of Mark Stevens, the Dukes' captain, seem to sum it all up—"We're number '1' and we love it!!"

We are the champions

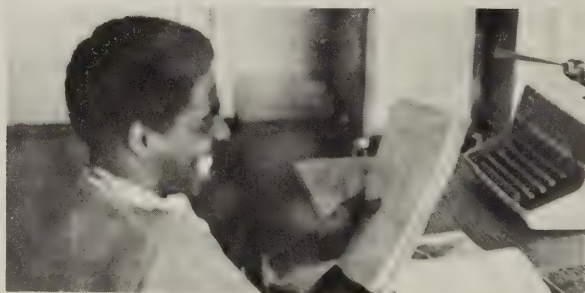

What is "Having Fun"?

TOP LEFT: Fun is being among the 1978 Basketball Homecoming Court as are Ronna Barr, Georgia Hicks, Sandy Riser, and Lee Seamster.

"Fun" can mean lots of things: getting together after school, making an "A" on a chemistry test, or just doing what you enjoy doing. "Me" is a very special word here at C.H.S., and doing things your own way is what it's all about.

Who are the faculty, anyway? We are the people who talk and assign papers; give homework and talk some more; who rush you, and nag you, and coach you, and encourage you, and discourage you, and wish the best for you. We know who we are—teachers and encouragers of learning. No we are helping others find themselves.

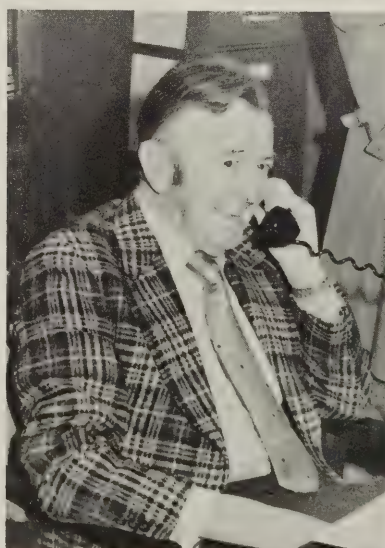

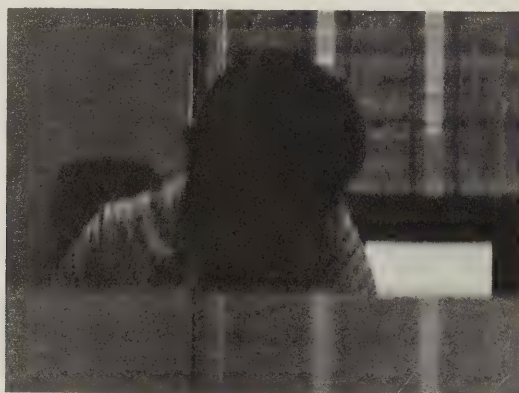

Faculty

Administration

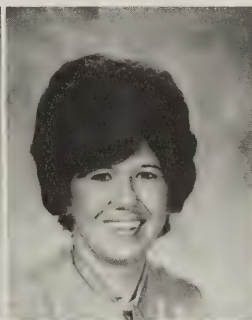

We, the administration, really feel that our job is very important. We make many important decisions, decisions that sometimes the students don't like very much, but as always the decisions are made in their behalf and for their best interest.

UPPER LEFT: Mrs. Joyce Ross smiles as she speaks on the phone. UPPER RIGHT: Mrs. DePew smiles as she looks through some files. The Final Chapter

I'm finally a senior. It's been a long, hard climb, but somehow I made it. I've learned a lot about English, government, math, and the sciences. But most of all, I've learned about myself. After twelve years of school I finally have an idea about who I am.

Sometimes I just want to give up! It's my senior year, so where is all the fun I'm supposed to be having? Where is the carefree life everyone told me about? All I ever see is work . . . tests, term papers, projects. Is it worth all the trouble? Ask me again in June.

Pass the bucks

I never knew being a senior would be so expensive. It's not the price of education, but the little extras that add up. Senior pictures (drapes, enviromental, cap & gown), announcements, class dues, cap & gown, class key, class trip . . . boy does it add up . Like they say "You're only a senior once." thank goodness! That's all I can afford.

It has been quite a journey. Twelve years seems like a long time (2/3 of most of our lives), but now that I look back, it seems as if it was only yesterday I was a scared little kid, in First grade. In this span of years I've learned a lot—about history, math, English . . . but most importantly about people, about myself.

The past has been full of carefree years, but those years have almost come to an end, and regretfully that life must be put away to become a part of beautiful memories, but wide-eyed and eager we anticipate the future. Although, before the purposes of a new life can be fulfilled, time must be taken out to contemplate, analyze, and finally draw the conclusion to the all-important question; what will determine our success and happiness—"Who Am I?"

Each year, as we get older, we become more aware of the importance of trying to find the answer to the all important question, "Who Am I?" But as juniors we not only had to solve problems as individuals, but we also had to find the solution to the problem of "Who Are We?" We found out early that "Organization" was going to be helpful in finding the answers we needed. Nevertheless, getting organized was only a small part of tackling the problems we found we were to face.

Relating

As the Junior Class of C.H.S. we had many new challenges to face. We learned it was hard for so many different people to come up with an idea that pleased all. There were times when we felt like giving up but what is most important is that we didn't. We found that if we were to accomplish what we had set out to do we had to have faith in each other. We were determined to learn to relate to one another and work as one.

Although this is the first year we were organized as a class, it is also the beginning of the time when we must think seriously about making important decisions about our futures. Each person must take time to analyze his beliefs, and himself in order to decide which path is the best path for him. Many have decided to use this year to explore many avenues. We spend time reading books, talking to counselors, adults, and peers hoping to find some answers. Some have found that joining clubs, and doing volunteer work helps them to find a part of the answer to that all important question, "Who Am I?" Am I a leader? a follower?, or maybe even both????

We have found that answering that question—"Who Am I?", is something that must be done, but is not easy to do. It's true that some have the answer but still others only have a part of the answer. The one thing we all have come to realize is that the future we're preparing for is not very far away. Soon we won't be able to think about Who Am I," We'll have to know the answer so we can choose the careers, and lifestyles that will enable us to live the fulfilling lives we've all dreamed of.

Custodians and the Cooks do their jobs

The cooks and custodians did a great job this year. The cooks making good hot lunches and the custodians keeping the grounds and the rooms clean, which is almost an impossible task.

Sophomores—One Of A Kind

We're the "CLASS OF 80" and we're on the road to success. We're not at the top, but we're not at the bottom either. We've come a long way, but we still have a ways to go to make center stage. We're too old for bicycles, but we're not old enough for our "own" car. We're not there yet, but we will "keep on truckin' until we make it."

Sometimes things don't go exactly as planned and we seem a little glum, but we usually pull through. We must have a little spirit because we're ahead of everyone in Pep Rally competition.

Freshmen

Simple Chaos

Teachers shouting to the top of their voices, "Get your books out and study. Pay attention! Wake up, sleepy head. I won't go over this but once. How many times have I said, 'No more talking in my class.'" Well, it's just the daily routine for us. If only the teachers could understand what a freshman has to go through. It's simple chaos. We can't keep up with our books. There's so much going on that I can't keep my mind on what I'm doing and some things just can't be ignored. What is paying attention? Pay attention to what—your teachers, your friend sitting next to you, the letter that your love one just wrote, or that awful problem that has been bugging you for weeks? Well, I am going to forget about everything! I'm going to ease my mind once and for all. Forget about school work, nagging teachers, and that awful problem. C-A-L-I-F-O-R-N-I-A, here I come!!!

Stop Everything!!

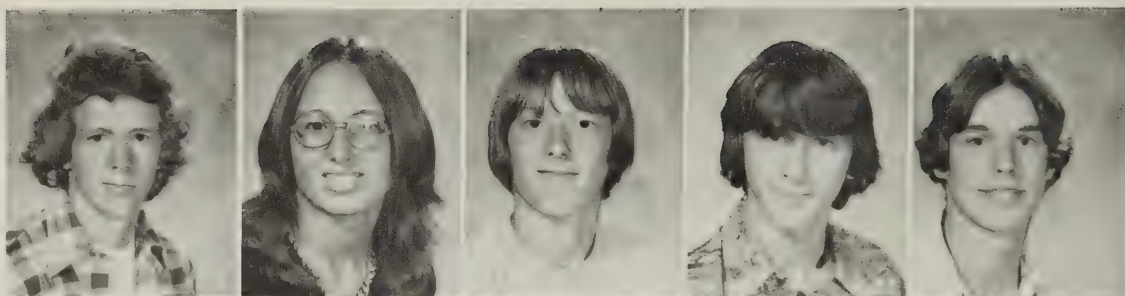

I am a beginner!! I know where I have been but I don't know where I'm going. Think about it. Two steps behind me and three ahead and I will have completed one scale of my life. Can I skip just one without destroying my future? I can't take anything for granted. Security is scarce and hope is all that I have for a foundation. I am new in this big world, fighting and struggling to come on top. It doesn't cost me anything to get involved. So I'll just jump those obstacles in my way, and look at life in a clear view. Placing the most important first will help me eliminate the small mistakes and learn from them also. There is no time for stumbling. No, No. I am a person who can't take much. The world is too complicated. Stop everything! I want to get off! LEFT: Connie Speas enjoys a break from the year-book's art staff.

Freshmen do not tolerate half-stepping

No Half-Stepping

We dislike half-stepping. When we do something it has to be done right. No cutting corners, making excuses, or leaving a job unfinished. Completion is our goal in everything that we do. Plans are made ahead of time so absolutely nothing will be forgotten. When we set our minds to it there is no stopping us. When a job is completed to its best we are willing to stand behind it all the way. Grade A work is what we put-out. No defects or faults. Anyway, who do we have to thank but ourselves for our success?

Be A Clown

Magicians' card outfits, stamps and coins, pocket knives, trick spiders, and imitation fried eggs make the day of a freshman. Whoopy-cushion in the teacher's chair sends the class' papers through the air. A loud squeak comes from that little girl that has a crush on you, because you lent her a pen that backfired. What's going on in the next aisle? Why so much laughter? Look! He has a big hole in his sock and to top it all they do not match. Alright, who put the bubble gum in my hair? Everyone wants to be a clown. They can dish out these little pranks but can they take them? Stop pushing. You will get your chance. Haven't you heard haste makes waste? Who burrowed my book? Okay, okay, the joke isn't funny anymore. I want my book. What? ... Where is it? On top of the building! What's next?

Freshmen mingle with others in English class.

Who am I? I'm an eighth grader at Cumberland High School. I'm learning to cope with my problems for my role in society. I'm learning vital subjects which I will use later on in my life. I'm trying to get an idea of what I want and can do in the future with my life and the skills that I will need to know so that I can accomplish these ends. I'm an eighth grader, and proud of it.

Eighth Grade

Young, But Progressive

We are finally getting into the hang of things here at C.H.S. Maybe we are almost the youngest, but we try to make our age and inexperience up with our will to learn. Now we can finally be proud to be called Rookies, for we understand that the name that others label you with doesn't mean anything as long as you have confidence in yourself. To us, "Rookies" mean that we are yet inexperienced and that we have a long way to go before we are ready to be on our own.

Jennifer Pleasants, the eighth grade homecoming representative, pauses with her father at Cumberland's Homecoming Game.

A school day at C.H.S. is not all work, at least it seems that way to the eighth graders. There are times when you can sit back and relax, not even worrying about a test next period or even a report that is due. We clown around and cut-up alot of the time, but we always seem to get our work done.

We're Not That Young!

Maybe we are only eighth graders, but we aren't the youngest at C.H.S. Most upper classmen look down on us even though we try to win their respect. A lot of times we should be the ones looking down upon others. This is one problem we have to face, but we are still happy to be a part of Cumberland High School.

Will We Ever Make It?

We've made it up to high school, but our senior year is still a long ways off. It will take a lot of time and hard work, but is it worth it? Of course, for we will be the leaders in our society when our day and age comes, so look out for the rookies! We are on our way up.

I'm an individual soul amongst a group of elders. I think of myself as one and easily get lost in a crowd. I'm one of a group of other seventh graders with whom I feel a special unity. Sometimes I can get along without help and at other times I need a little aid from my classmates and friends. I'm glad I am what I am!

Lavina Sims leads back to class after lunch

Yes, We've made it. We've made that final metamorphosis from elementary school life to high school life. It was rough going at first, but then we began to fit in. We felt we had become "one of the gang".

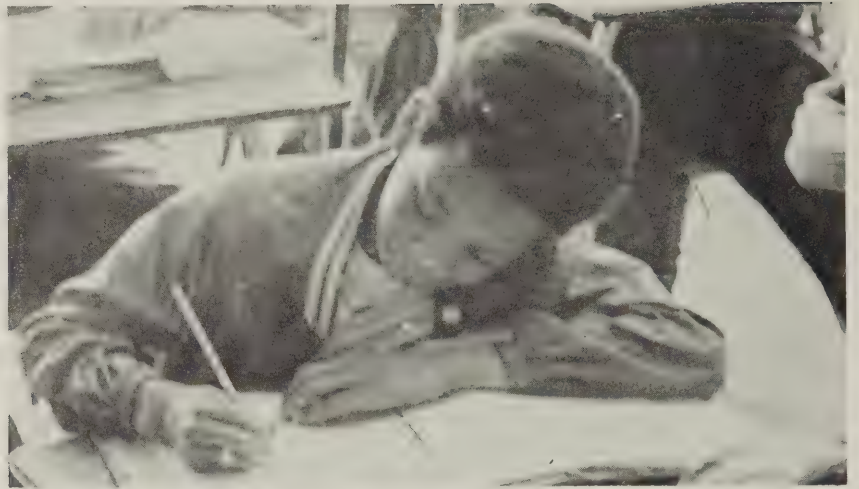

Coming to the high school has given us a new scope on school. We now realize what a time we had given the younger grades at the elementary school because now we are the lower grade—what a switch!

We, the seventh graders of Cumberland High School, are happy to announce, "We belong," and "we are proud to be known as the Class of 1983."

Danny Ross carries on a conversation until the bell rings.

As the year progressed, the work continued to get more difficult. We were constantly working hard and learning new things about our books, but things about ourselves and friends too. Our teachers and upperclassmen helped in this education, and we thank them for all their consideration.

As the year went along, we weren't so new anymore. We didn't quite fit the title, "New Breed." We grew accustomed to our surroundings and friends. Now we're wondering whether or not we would rather be the people we were when we started here. Next year, will we be known as the old breed?

Something New

As the school year comes to end we realize we've grown up. Not necessarily in height but in mind and manners. We've come to the conclusion that being youngest and smallest isn't everything. We have our own unique and individual ideas too! We're glad this school year's about over, but we'll miss it. Soon we won't be known as "New Breed", and we'll miss the nickname. Wonder what name we'll get next year—"Old Breed"?

TMR: A Special Kind of Talent

Mrs. Hawkins, aid, prepares Cliff Raby for a relay while Nikki Hendricks warms up.

Patty, Terri, Cliff, Nikki, Scott, and Shirley have a special talent all their own. Activities such as singing, arts and crafts, and decorating go on in Miss Brydie's class, along with classroom helpers, Mrs. Hawkins, Susan Towler and Nita Taliaferro.

Cliff Raby tries to decide how far he must run. Mrs. Hawkins congratulates Patty Griggs as Mrs. Shelton, helper, looks on.

Dedication

The yearbook staff this year is happy to dedicate the 1978 Duke to Mr. Lee Harrison. Mr. Harrison taught Civics here and helped coached the football team in 1973 but later moved away. Now he is back teaching Title I reading and coaching the soccer team, which he started last year. He has continued this year with the soccer team although he receives no financial support whatsoever. He himself paid for uniforms and equipment, provided transportation to and from games, and spent many hours, without remuneration, coaching.

In addition to his coaching activities, he helps sponsor the Senior Class. He has often given up Saturdays and evenings to chaperone a dance or come to some other event.

He is also available to help other groups and individuals. Since he gets to school early, he is often requested by students to help with history assignments or other work. Students corner him and ask him to help with special events. Even teachers have come to him for assistance. He knows who he is and tries to help others find themselves.

We, the staff of The 1978 Duke, would like to express our appreciation to the businesses which helped support our yearbook. Without their patronage, the Duke would not have been a success.

Learn to accept me

I'm me. I don't have to prove myself to anyone, I know who I am and that's good enough for me. I'm the one that has to live with myself, not everyone else. I don't have to live up to anyone's expectations but my own. I can only meet my goals by being myself, not what everyone wants me to be. People will have to learn to accept me for what I am, or they won't accept me at all.

Follow the leader

Follow the leader is not only a child's game, but a way of life for many of us. I'm pressured by my friends to be like them. I feel like a puppet, and the people more powerful than I operate me. They shape me into someone acceptable to society never considering my feelings. They force me to be like everyone else.

Changing

"Who are you?" said the caterpillar . . . "I—I hardly know, Sir, just at present—at least I know who I was when I got up this morning, but I think I must have been changed several times since then."

from Alice in Wonderland
